Live remembering we are not home yet.

APRIL 2008

Each month I am to share an article with you. I both love and dislike the job. I carry you in my thoughts often wondering what I could say to you. This month we have already been given much with Easter just fresh in our memory and the Spring Walks in our near future. So this time I will share someone else's thoughts from a book I am reading. The book is entitled Eternity and was written by Joseph M. Stowell.

Mr. Stowell reminds us that this world is not our home. Our home is in heaven and keeping that precious piece of ammunition in our arsenal keeps up directed toward what our purpose is here. It allows us to handle our material possessions with open hands not clenched fists. It allows us to place our loved ones in His capable hands and not sorrow like the world when we see them moved to their real home and from our sight. Missing them and grieving for them, but knowing in peaceful hearts that they are with the Lord and He is watching over us until we are taken to our final home and reunited.

Joseph Stowell can say it better than I: "Intrinsic to our fallenness is the need for gain. Because we lost what we were meant to be, we are incomplete. Sensing the loss, we hunger for gain, for something more. But the problem is not that we hunger for gain, but that we pursue it on this side of eternity, thinking that if somehow we could gain enough and keep what we have gained, then we could be happy, complete, safe and secure. True gain, however, is being restored to our created purpose, an unhindered, satisfying experience of relationship with the God of the universe. He intends heaven as the place where we know final gain and eternal fulfillment."

Missionary Jim Elliot made heaven the focus of his life. 'He is no fool who loses what he cannot keep, to gain what he cannot lose,' he wrote in his journal. This philosophy released him to serve Christ even in the face of death as he lay bleeding in the Curaray River that winds through the jungles of Ecuador. Though for Jim being fully devoted to Christ here meant loss, but it clearly was gain on the ledger sheet of eternity. He was home. To die is gain. And not only gain for him, but also for a tribe that would ultimately come to know Christ as well.

Live remembering we are not home yet. (continued)

Living for Christ is really not possible until we understand and embrace the fact that dying is gain. And that is not possible until we firmly believe that heaven is real. When we affirm that truth in the depths of our soul, then we are finally free to live for Christ, even if that requires earth-side loss.

When we are consumed with the reality of heaven, Christ is free to consume us on earth. When we realize that final gain is there and then, we are free to love Him here and now. When we put gain in its place, we begin to enjoy Christ in His rightful place, the all-consuming center of our lives.

When heaven is the transcendent target of our living, then we indeed have the best of both worlds, Christ here and gain there. We are assured of Christ’s presence and protection here and ultimately the guarantee of paradise there, where He is the substance of our eternal gain.”

This may be why C. S. Lewis profoundly noted in Mere Christianity, “Aim at heaven and you’ll get earth thrown in. Aim at earth and you will get neither.”

Lord, help us to move toward keeping our hearts centered on You, our hands reaching toward Your purposes for our lives, and our feet turned toward heaven. May we see and contribute to Your work in the coming Emmaus Walks.

As always,

Chrysalis Flights #27 and #28

“Trust in the Lord with all your heart,
And lean not on your own understanding;
In all your ways acknowledge Him,
And He will make your paths straight.”
Proverbs 3:5-6

“Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love!!”

To the Columbus Indiana Area Chrysalis and Emmaus Communities:

The experience of being the Lay Directors of Flights 27 and 28 was both a blessing and a challenge. The responsibilities stretched us as persons and called forth capabilities we did not know we had. The experience enriched us spiritually and strengthened our abilities as Christian leaders. We discovered the help of the Holy Spirit as we began taking initiatives to form the team and to plan this Chrysalis Flight.

The team of Flights 27 and 28 went to Hilltop Christian Camp on Friday evening, January 18, 2008, filled with energy and enthusiasm carrying food, snacks, drinks, bedding, luggage and way too many extra things. Some of the extra things were 100 bracelets, 100 neckties, 100 hugs that multiplied 20 fold, 100 watches, 100 caterpillars, 100 cocoons, 100 butterflies, and even 100 rainbow scarves. We finished Friday evening with worship and the theme “The embers are glowing. Can you feel the heat?”

On Saturday the caterpillars and sponsors came and became wide eyed and uncertain about these people wearing name tags, tie dyed aprons, smiles, and grabbing their luggage out of their hands. All became calm once they found the coffee, hot chocolate, and donuts. “Big House” was very visible at sendoff and throughout the three days. They even brought us 100 brightly colored swords!

Five talks on Saturday brought us all closer together and the discussion took us well into the talk party time. The caterpillars heard about ideals and wondered. They heard that God designed them and they pondered. On the fifth talk they were freed to die with Christ through sin at the Prodigal talk. They hammered their sins and concerns to the cross. The sound of the hammer on the nails echoed through our hearts.

Day two was even better that day one. Can you believe that? With the theme of “Hope: A day of rising with Christ” the caterpillars did not even worry about the cold because the embers were glowing. God had turned the heat up through singing, prayer, clown communion, and the talks. The Agape Meal was one to remember with the youth of “Big House” serving the Caterpillars and team plus performing an unforgettable and meaningful skit! Then a few of us anticipated the Christ lit faces at Candlelight, but the caterpillars were surprised to tears and excitement when they experienced it.

Day 3 was a day of flying with Christ! All of the speakers were inspirational and the caterpillars learned so much and grew with every talk. Christ worked through the team, drawing the caterpillars to respond freely to Christ’s call of love. The caterpillars were planning their Next Steps throughout the day and were ready to share that with all of the Emmaus and Chrysalis community at Closing.

We sang all weekend “Love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind, and with all your strength.” We not only thank the Chrysalis Community for giving us the opportunity on Flights #27 and #28 to do just as the words to the song say, but we felt the community, team, and the Butterflies doing the same!

The Holy Spirit worked through the team and the framework of Chrysalis to enliven the experience and open the young people to God.

Thank you for the love, support and prayers that all of you gave unselfishly for Flights #27 and #28.

Fly with Christ!
Dan and Dot Kirkling

A Note From Your Agape Board Members,

Christine Griggs (812/378-9697) and Pat Shoemaker (812/988-2310)

It is time once again to start making agape for the upcoming spring walks. These small tokens of love are a fun part of the Emmaus experience. If you have a small craft item you enjoy making or something you would like to surprise the upcoming Pilgrims with, please let us know. We need 90 pieces per walk for Pilgrims and team. It is helpful if you designate where you would like the Agape team to place the items, i.e., conference room, bed agape or at meals. If your agape is for the conference room only you will only need to make approx. 60 pieces per walk.

We still have quite a bit of left over agape from the fall walks. Please call or see Christine to get that returned to you or you may add to it for the upcoming walks.

Lose something at the last walk or a previous one? There are several items in the Lost & Found so please check it out at the gatherings or call Pat.

Most importantly, don't forget to sign the Prayer Charts. These charts are such a powerful testimony to the Pilgrims of our love for them. We try to have these available to sign any time the Emmaus/Chrysalis Community gathers. If however you cannot make it to these gatherings, we would be happy to add your name to the chart. Just call Christine or Pat.

We are in need of volunteers to be responsible for the Snack & Prayer Charts. This would entail making sure the charts get to the gatherings and get signed. Someone is also needed who would be willing to coordinate volunteers and refreshments for both the men's and women's Send-off's. If you or your reunion group would be interested in helping in these areas please call one of us (above).

We really appreciate the support of the community in these areas of service. Thanks so much!

DeColores!
Christine and Pat

They asked each other,
"Were not our hearts burning within us
while he talked with us on the road and opened the Scriptures to us?" Luke 24:32

Don't forget to bring your candle to Candlelight
